The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(a). The drawings must show every feature of the invention specified in the claims. Therefore, the spear gun which resembles a crossbow (claim 29) must be shown or the feature(s) canceled from the claim(s). No new matter should be entered.

* * * * *

Claims 15-24, & 28-32 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In claim 15, it is not clear what the tensioning rubber bands tension, since they are not claimed as connected to any other feature.

* * * * *

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 15, 17, 19, 28-30, & 32 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Van Straaten 5,029,850 (newly cited).

Van Straaten shows a device including structure 12 which may be a "barrel", extending to a head 11; rubber bands 17, some of which may be designated "propelling rubber bands", and some of which may be designated "tensioning rubber bands"; and pulleys 20 at the head, which guide the propelling rubber bands from a top of the barrel to the underside of the barrel. This is the only structure required by the claim, the preamble statement of a "spear gun" does not define features beyond Van Straaten. For example, one could place a spear parallel to "barrel" 12, then pull down one of the bands 17 and attach it to the rear of the spear, and release, and the spear would be propelled along the entire length of the barrel as the band is retracted around the pulley.

Claims 25-27 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Claims 33 & 34 are allowed.
